Introducing Shadow 2026: A New Kind of Essential

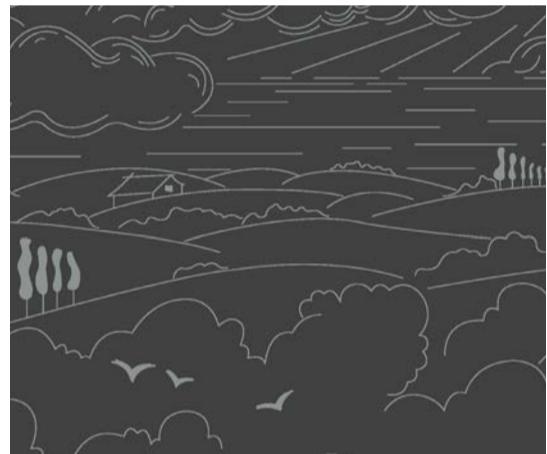

Color brings life to a quilt, but contrast is what makes it sing. The play between light and dark—the depth created by shadow—is a quiet but essential part of beautiful design.

For years, Alison Glass' Sun Print collections have offered a paintbox of saturated color, an ever-evolving collection designed to mix, match, and build upon itself. Now, Shadow joins it. This new collection focuses on the neutrals that make color shine—a palette of light and dark, from soft whites and warm creams to deep charcoals and grounding hues. Shadow expands the range of usable fabrics, whether as backgrounds, focal points, or the quiet in-between spaces that let color glow.

Each year, Sun Print and Shadow will release together, creating a growing foundation of color and contrast. Both collections are designed to work seamlessly with past, present, and future Alison Glass fabrics. Together they provide a balance of color and quiet, light and depth.

Shadow 2026 Details

The debut Shadow collection includes six prints, each offered in three neutral colorways—half light, half dark. The designs are intricate yet versatile, inspired by the way shadows hold both story and dimension:

DWELL

A quiet countryside landscape in linework, like a scene glimpsed from a train window

EQUANIMITY

A delicate, organic floral scattered like wildflowers in an open field

LEDGER

A nod to vintage bookkeeping, evoking the beauty of the everyday

THIS & THAT

Geometric and fluid, a study in movement and shape

SINGALONG

A musical print featuring the song "You Are My Sunshine," layered with soft flowers

PHILATELY

A collection of tiny animals and geometric motifs, drawn from a past fabric line inspired by vintage postage stamps

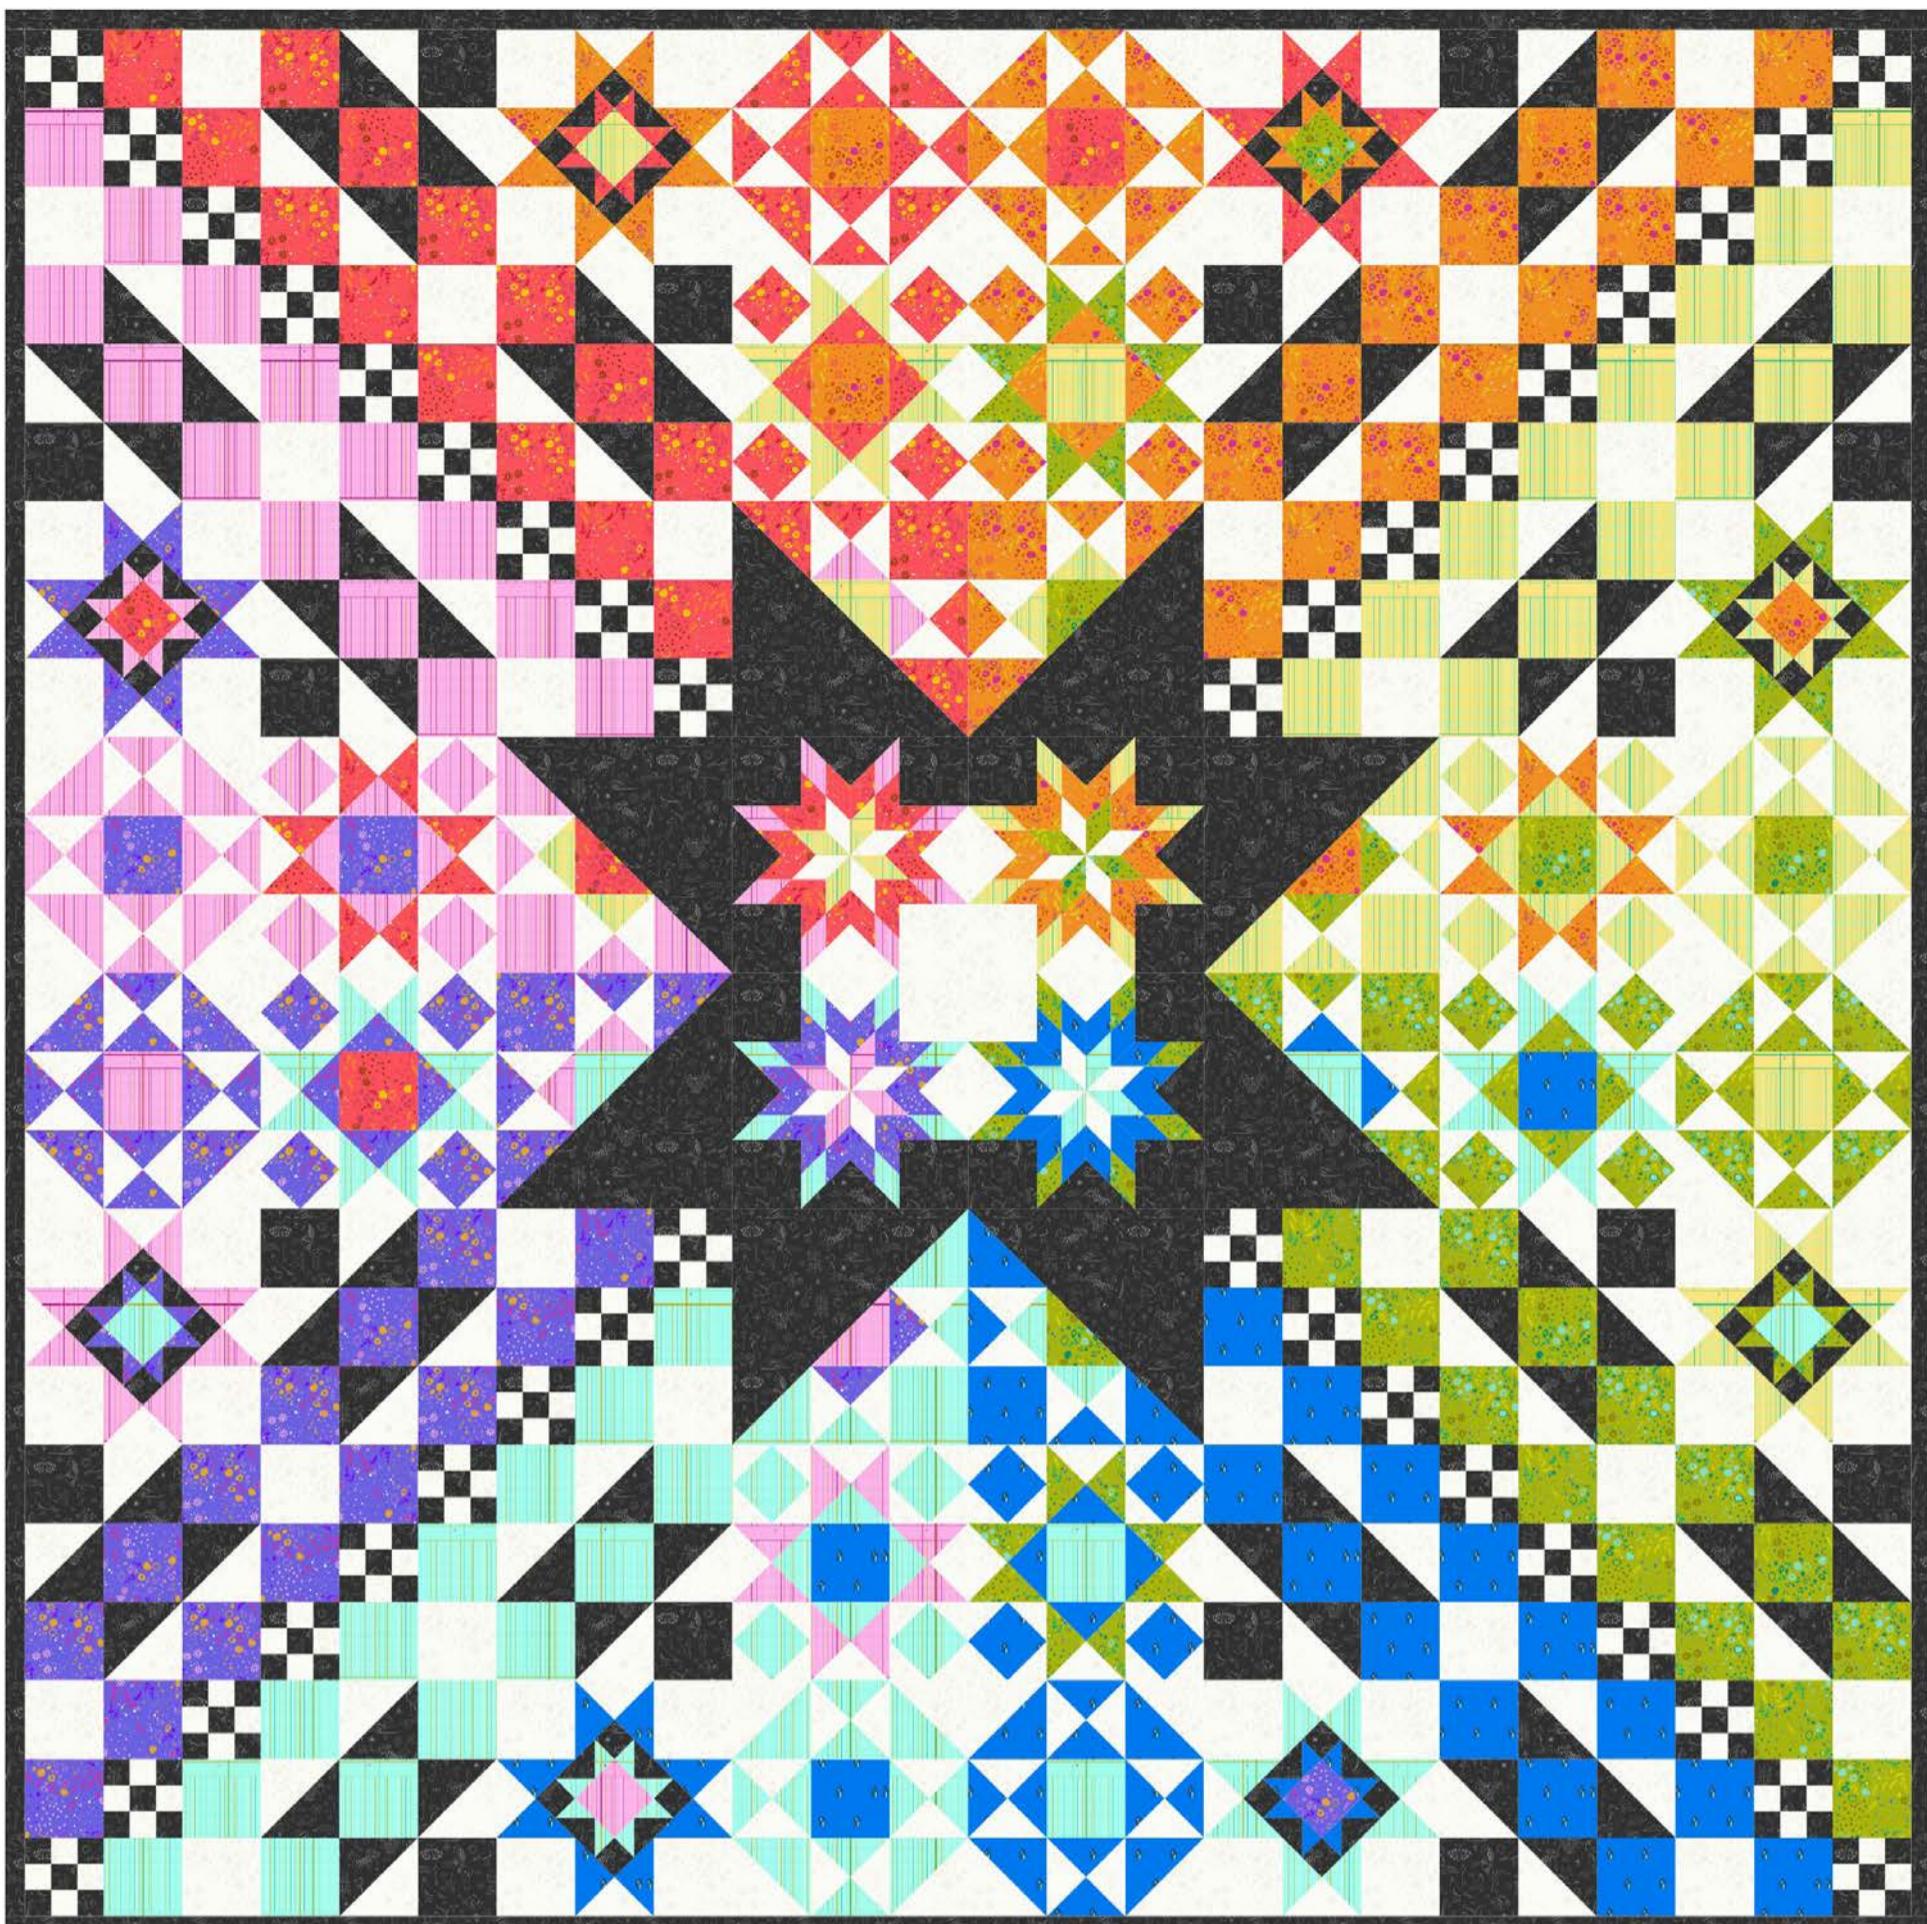

With Shadow 2026, the range of neutral quilting fabrics expands—not just in color, but in character.

Sun Print and Shadow: A Perfect Pair

These six “color” neutrals are especially useful with saturated palettes like Sun Print. They create that same calm contrast we love in traditional neutrals—just with a little more personality. If you’ve ever felt unsure about your background choice—or if you’ve wanted to try something with a bit more character—Shadow is a great place to start.

Because color is all about context.

And sometimes the best neutrals...are colors, too.
